

The Listening Salon

A sample activity and hosting guide for adult members

Purpose

A listening salon is a small, welcoming gathering built around music, reflection, and conversation. This sample guide helps a host create a clear structure without over-planning the room.

Before the event

Choose a focused theme

Examples include confidence, reinvention, mystery, first impressions, or the sound of a particular season.

Set the invitation clearly

Include the date, start and end time, audience, accessibility information, dress guidance if any, and whether guests may bring someone.

Prepare the space

Offer comfortable seating, water, a quiet area, readable signage, and a clear route to exits and restrooms.

Build the listening sequence

Use 5-8 tracks. Start with something welcoming, place the most demanding track in the middle, and close with something reflective.

Name the community expectations

Respect privacy, ask before photographing, avoid pressure to speak, and keep disagreement focused on ideas rather than people.

Suggested 75-minute schedule

Time	Activity
0:00-0:10	Arrival, welcome, and accessibility notes
0:10-0:20	Opening track and quiet reflection
0:20-0:45	Three-track sequence with short discussion
0:45-0:60	Small-group prompt or creative activity

Time	Activity
0:60-0:70	Final track and closing reflections
0:70-0:75	Announcements, future invitations, and departure

Host checklist

- Invitation reviewed for clarity
- Playlist tested in order
- Volume checked at conversational level
- Water and seating ready
- Photo and privacy expectations posted
- Accessibility requests confirmed
- Closing time and departure plan communicated